Dear Raphaela,

I appreciate and thank you for your letter of the 7th. It was delayed getting here, until yesterday. It was postmarked the next day so it was not late getting into the mail. Once before a letter from Richard was delayed about 10 days.

So, our letters crossed in the mail.

The sample you enclosed, from the computer, looks fine!

As I phoned to tell you last Thursday, when I spoke briefly to David, who was on another call, I did not get the last dozen chapters. I've read and returned all I was sent. Or all I got, anyway.

I've been writing a new preface. I'd begun it before you sent the retyped copy.

Too many interruptions. But I should be sending it soon.

Again thanks and best wishes for a fine holiday!

Harold

The last page I got is 455.
